FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK . . .

Nobles & Ladies

We thank Noble Wayne and Lady Jewel Wiggins for a very interesting and informative presentation, from their trip to China at our October meeting. Your pictures and commentary made us feel like we were there too. We also thank the Ladies Auxiliary for another delicious meal.

Our cake sales are now underway, and we appreciate your help, Nobles, in getting this project completed.

Please check the dates and times of the parades coming up, also in this newsletter.

I am looking forward to seeing everyone at our November meeting. Oriental Guide, Noble Joe Johnson, will be conducting our election at this time and we are looking forward to having him with us again.

"FROM THE DESK OF YOUR AMBASSADOR"

Greetings Nobles:

As winter approaches new activities are on the horizon. Our election night provides us with an opportunity to elect a new executive to steer the ship for the next year. In addition we will soon be busy with Christmas cake sales and parades. I would encourage all to participate where they can in all of these activities.

Noble Ambassador
Barry Robb

The Chaplain's Corner

Nobles and Ladies; Please accept my 3rd installment of the history and circumstance surrounding our Sovereign. This is copied from the Canadian Government site:

The Royal Anthem originated as a patriotic song in London, England, in 1745. Neither the author nor the composer is known. The anthem is performed officially in Canada in the presence of members of the royal family, as part of the Salute accorded to the Governor General and Lieutenant Governors and by Canadians at all types of ceremonies and events usually in concert with the national anthem "O Canada".

Several similar earlier airs exist in a manuscript of 1619 attributed to Dr. John Bull, an organist in the Chapel Royal during the reign of James I. In the same book is a song called "God Save The King," but the music is different.

For a long time the song was used as an expression of personal loyalty to the king and in translation it was used in Prussia, Denmark, and in Russia until 1833 when Czar Nicholas commissioned a new version. The tune has also been used in Sweden, Switzerland, Liechtenstein and the United States. While "O Canada" is the national anthem of Canada, "God Save the Queen" is our royal anthem.

Thank you,
Vaughn Lloyd.
